

Codax™ POS Integration

Codax™ POS Integration

- Simplifying the retail environment
- Instantly selling Codax codes and smartcards
- Increasing security
- Enhancing reconciliation and revenue reporting

Linking Codax™ equipment with your point of sale control system provides accurate sales data for head office whilst opening more opportunities for your staff to sell carwashes and valet services.

Working with POS manufacturers, we have created simple integration options so you can collect sales data or sell carwashes from almost any till.

For organisations with older POS equipment, simple integration options can deliver detailed sales data and provide robust protection against shrinkage.

Outlets with more recent POS equipment can access much of the Codax functionality from their tills, including selecting wash programmes and printing the secure access code. This configuration is simpler for staff, maximises security and frees-up valuable space on the counter.

POS Integration

A range of options to increase sales, improve reporting and maximise security.

Simple linkup for easier reporting

If your sole objective is to gather sales data, the Codax terminal can connect directly to a POS device using barcode emulation.

Every time your staff use the terminal to issue a code for a carwash programme, the details are sent back to the till so that the sale can be completed and the transaction reported with the rest of your sales.

Secure lockdown

To prevent deliberate misuse – and genuine mistakes – Codax terminals can be configured to issue a code only when the till has recorded a completed transaction.

This form of integration is secure and easy to achieve, as the Codax system continues to handle all of the programme selection, code generation, printing and code verification functions.

Network-attached code generation

For the greatest simplicity and reliability in-store, a Codax Ethernet unit can give all your tills the ability to sell prepaid wash cards and print Codax access codes for all your carwash programmes.

In this way carwashes and valet services are automatically included in your sales data. Shrinkage is also avoided, as car wash codes are only ever issued as part of a sale.

All of your carwashes and other services can be programmed into your tills and presented through menus or barcodes so everything is simple and familiar for your staff.

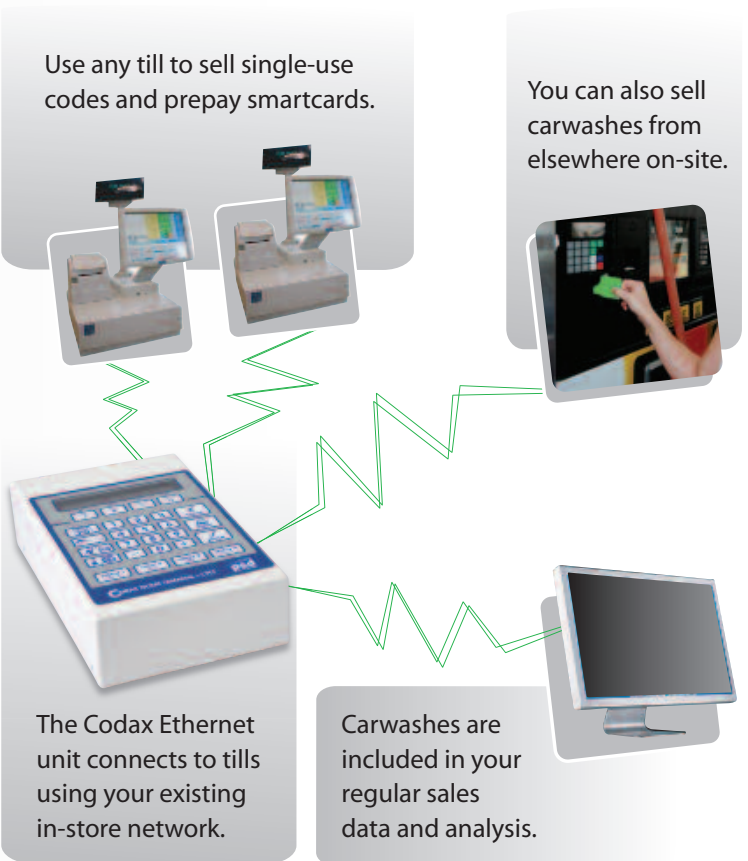

When a sale is made, the till requests the appropriate type of code over your retail network from the Codax code-generator.

Most POS manufacturers have implemented out-of-the-box integration to Codax, so all you need is to plug a single Codax Ethernet unit into your in-store network.

Codax compatibility

No matter which option you select for POS integration, you can be sure that it will be compatible with all your other Codax equipment.

Codax is the leader, setting the standard for compatibility with all makes and models of carwash and car care equipment.
